DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-40 and 44-46 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-26, 28 and 40, drawn to an endoscopic method for treating cartilage or bone defects.

Group II, claims 27 and 29-39, drawn to a kit comprising two separate containers.

Group III, claim 44, drawn to a method for culturing cells comprising a culture medium comprising hydroxy apatite.

Group IV, claims 45 and 46, drawn to a method for culturing cells using a culture medium comprising collagen compositions or solutions.

In regard to unity of invention, M.P.E.P. §1850 states that:

(a) An international or national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept. Where a group of inventions is claimed in an application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those invention involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

(b) An international or a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories:

- (1) a product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or
- (2) a product and a process of use of said product; or
- (3) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or
- (4) a process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out said process; or
- (5) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out said process.

(c) If an application contains claims to more or less than one of the combinations of categories of invention set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, unity of invention might not be present.

(d) If multiple products, processes of manufacture or uses are claimed, the first invention of the category first mentioned in the claims of the application and the first recited invention of each of the other categories related thereto will be considered as the main invention in the claims, see PCT Article 17(3)(a) and § 1.476(c).

Group III and IV are considered as multiple process, and only first appearing invention is considered (thus, Group III).

Groups I and III only share technical feature of cells and this technical feature is not considered as a special technical feature. Thus, there is no unity of invention between Group I and III.

Groups I and II invention fall within category (4) a process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out said process.

The technical feature shared by Group I and II is the endoscopic method steps of identifying position of a defect and applying cells selected from chondrocytes, chondroblasts, osteocytes or osteoblasts. Since the technical feature shared by Group I and II is known in the art according to Frondoza et al. (US 2001/0014475), the technical feature is not considered as a special technical feature.

Thus, the inventions listed as Groups I, II, III and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
